RAILWAY UNION STRIKERS

Decision of the California Courts Affirmed and They Must Serve Sentence-Far-Reaching Opinion in the Union Pacific and Western Union Case Handed Down.

The conviction and sentence of W. H. Chine, Isaac Ross, and Philip Stanwood in the United States court for the southern district of California, were affirmed yesterday by the Supreme Court of the United States, the opinion being read by Mr.

Angeles of the American Railway Union and were indicted for conspiracy to obstruct the mails on the Southern Pacific Railway at the time of the great railway strike in the summer of 1894. They were sentenced by Judge Ross to imprisonment in the county jail at Los Augeles for eighteen months, and appealed from that judgment. The only question of law considered by the court was one raised in the argument of the case, that it was incompetent for Congress to impose a heavier penalty for conspiracy to commit a crime than that imposed for the commission of the crime itself.

This, Judge Brewer said, was incorrect

VAN VRANKEN CASE.

Upon the authority of Johnson vs. Sayre, decided at the last term of court, the Supreme Court reversed the order of Judge Hughes, of the Federal court for the Eastern district of Virginia, releasing James Van Vranken from the custody of John F. Van Vranken was cierk of Paymaster Bellows, who had been found guilty by maxal court martial of converling to its own use $1,223 of the funds intrusted to the paymisster, and sentenced Judge Hughes released Van Vranken, holding that he was amenable to the civil courts for his crime and not to the military. courts for his crime and not to the civil courts for his crime and not to the military. This position the Supreme Court said in the case of Johnson vs. Bayre, involving precisely the same state of facts, was incorrect, and reversed the order of release. In the meantime, however, Van Vranken, it is said, has taken himself out of the jurisdiction of the Naval authorities.

In his opinion Mr. Justice Harlan said, in reference to the object and scope of the Pacific railroad acts, that the first eighteen sections of the acts of 1862-64 are wholly inconsistent "with the idea that the Union Pacific Railroad Company could have fulfilled its obligations to the government by simply constructing a railroad, without making any provision whatever for the construction or operation of a telegraph line, thereby leaving all communication by taken and the control of the province of the page of the control of the con filled its obligations to the government by simply constructing a railroad, without making any provision whatever for the construction or operation of a telegraph line, thereby leaving all communication by telegraph along its route to the absolute control of private corporations deriving no authority from the national government and whose operations would not ordinarily be submotion.

The decision is one of the most important that has been made by the Supreme Court affecting the relations of the Government and the Pacific railroads, declaring as it does, that Congress has the right to add to, amend or after the acts of 1862-64, graoting aid in bonds and land to the company for the construction of its line.

It is alleged on the part of the Commissioners that all efforts to purchase the land proved furile, and that the after-proceedings came as a necessity. JURIES MUST DECIDE.

Important Point Settled by a Supreme Court Decision.

Daniel Bucklin, convicted in the United States court of Kansas of perjury, com-mitted in a land contest case, will have a mitted in a land contest case, will have a new trial. There was no error in the pre-ceedings of ruling of the trial judge, said Justice Harian in announcing the opinion of the Supreme Court of the United States yesterday, but there was error in an in-struction given to the jury after it had been three days considering their verdict. Brekin was tried jointly with two others, indicted for the same crime at the same time, and the jury acked the court if the jury could agree as to some of the defendants and disagree as to one.

The court replied. "I think not; the jury can convict some of the defendants and acquit some or find all gullty or all not guilty, but they cannot find a verdict as to some and disagree as to one or more." This, Justice Harian said, entitled the defendant to a new trial, for if he was the one as to whom the lary desired to disagree, it was his right to have a trial before another jury. The judgment was therefore reversed, and the case remanded for a new trial.

SUIT OVER A NOTE.

Three Defendants Named in a Heavy Transaction.

Charles Christiani and Edwin B. Hughes Charles Coristian and Edward B. Rights flied a bill in equity today against the People's Fire Insurance Company and against John G. Slater, Charles H. Allender, against John C. Shader, charles, in his own and Henry K. thereto.

The note is alleged to have been passed by one Thomas A. Mitchell, drawn for six years, and made payable to Defendant Slater and Complainant Hughes, in the sum Sinter and Complainant Hughes, in the sam of $7,000. This note was afterward placed as collateral surety by Defendant Slater with the defeudant company, to insure repayment of $4,000 borrowed money. The money has all been repaid but $500.

Allender not long ago obtained a judgment against Slater for $8,800, and caused a writ of garnishment to issue against the holders of the note.
